Chairman's Report

30 June 2015

Education policy has been at the centre of national debate over the last 12 months. This has created enormous uncertainty amongst the institutions and students that are served by university and TAFE colleges. Whilst this uncertainty has played out on the national stage at the grass roots level, where our concern is focussed, there is a high level of confusion and uncertainty.

This is unfortunate as feedback from our now 400 strong group of volunteers serving the Country Education Foundation across 42 regional foundations indicates all are only too aware of the enhanced need for education as the pathway to opportunity and career choice. At no time has it been more important in regional Australia for young people to be given an opportunity to find their way through the maze to further their education and enhance their ability to shape a career.

Our education partners have remained committed notwithstanding the financial pressures and uncertainties they are facing in Federal Government funding. Two new education partners have joined our family, namely Griffith University in Queensland and Open Universities Australia. We welcome them to the 18 partners that we already have nationally and who provided co-funding this year of $225,000.

In all CEF achieved a new milestone handing out 463 grants worth a total of $652,000. We have continued to expand our footprint at sustainable levels with the additional of Nyngan Country Education Foundation in North Western NSW.

When considered over our history we can take enormous pleasure in recording that we have provided over $6.4 million of support to more than 4,000 students.

From my own experience, in Boorowa, one of the most successful programs that we run from students' point of view is the University Experience which has been supported by Macquarie University and the NSW based Bridges Partnership of Universities, Australian National University and University of Canberra. These experiences have the opened eyes of young regional students to the opportunities of further education that some never believed possible. There are some wonderful individual stories on how these experiences have profoundly changed lives for the better.

This year we have invested in our own sustainability, and in the resources which make it possible for our volunteers to continue supporting growing numbers of students each year. Emphasis on bringing up to date our information systems' capacity to make it easier for volunteers to work within our family has been a priority. With this in mind we have dramatically improved the efficiency and friendliness of our website. This has been rewarded with a huge increase in traffic and usage by both students and ease of operation for the local foundations.

At the more exciting end of the scale our Scholarships Guide and University Survival Guide publications have continued to grow in popularity and distribution, providing valuable resources for parents and students across the whole country. This has proved particularly beneficial for students in regional Australia where we have no presence and a scope of opportunities are set out in an easy format.

Chairman's Report

The challenge for the Board of the Foundation is to continue to provide the financial wherewith all for what we know is a crying need. Whenever I travel to individual Foundations I am touched by the personal stories of achievement and initiative that young people have pursued. Nearly always the pursuit of their goals has been materially advanced by the work of the local committee who through their intuitive and local knowledge have adapted the support that the Country Education Foundation can provide. The mentoring and personal support offered to students leads to results that are not achievable with either government funding or third party programs. The financial support that CEF obtains is often unheralded and is given insufficient public recognition. The reward clearly lies in the reports back to our donors as to what has been achieved and how effectively their support has been leveraged into opportunities for young people.

Some of those who have recently joined us as financial supporters include the NSW Country Eagles, ASX Thompson Reuters Foundation and the Millett Family Foundation. These supporters join a group of longer established supporters led by the Origin Foundation and the Snow Foundation, who support not only scholarships, but also a number of projects aimed at our financial sustainability. Much of this expenditure is used to cover the less glamorous side of our work related to good governance and program support. The importance of expanding our capacity to support the voluntary field workers cannot be overstated and is a significant investment that is necessary to achieve the outcomes we have set out to achieve.

Others who remain committed to assisting young people find their way in furthering their education and skill set include the James N Kirby Foundation, Purves Foundation, Profield Foundation, AVIS, Steve Godbold and Matt Wilson. Of particular mention I would like to thank the staff and directors of Boyce Chartered Accountants who continue to support their regional roots with an outstanding commitment to our financial reporting and conduct. In today's world, where reputation is all, they ensure that the probity requirements of a not for profit organisation such as ours are always front of mind. All of this is brought together under the outstanding leadership of Sarah Taylor, our CEO. She has assembled an extraordinary team of devoted individuals who are now housed in our larger offices in Orange.

There is no one in our organisation who more faithfully exhibits the qualities of the Foundation than Katie Walker who after many years of service has retired but thankfully agreed to remain on the Board as a contributor.

Our committees are all evidenced by a dominance of long established members which is testament to the value they see being derived from our work. My heartfelt thanks goes to them all.

(b) Review of operations

A review of the operations of Company during the financial year and the results of those operations show the largest impact on the company's result is due to a change in interpretation and application of the accounting policy regarding the ability to defer and match grant monies to the expenditure to which it relates. The impact of introducing this policy was an increase in the company's deficit of $224,500, which otherwise would have been $20,672. As was disclosed in the 2014 report the surplus achieved for that year was significantly impacted by the unexpended funds not disclosed as a liability.

There has been growing support from donors and partners. Reserves of the organisation have purposefully been utilised to fund this cost of growth with a view to achieving sustainability in the near future.

The financial report of Country Education Foundation of Australia Ltd as an individual entity complies with all Australian equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards (AIFRS) in their entirety.

(d) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less which are convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of change in value, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within short-term borrowings in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

(e) Property, plant and equipment

Each class of property, plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair value as indicated less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis less depreciation and impairment losses. Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the asset.

The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by directors to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount from these assets. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows that will be received from the asset's employment and subsequent disposal.

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all plant and equipment, is depreciated on a diminishing value basis over the asset's useful life to the Company commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

The depreciation rates used for each class of depreciable assets are:

Class of Plant and Equipment	Depreciation Rate
------------------------------	-------------------

Furniture and fittings	10%
Office Equipment	50%-66.67%
Plant and equipment	20%

The assets' residual values, depreciation methods and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

(f) Investments (financial assets)

Available-for-sale financial assets

All investments are classified as available-for-sale financial assets. Available-for-sale financial assets are reflected at fair value unless their fair value cannot be reliably measured. Unrealised gains arising from changes in fair value are taken directly to equity and are recorded in the asset revaluation reserve. Unrealised losses, unless they represent a reversal of amounts previously taken to the asset revaluation reserve, are shown as an impairment in the income statement.

(g) Financial Instruments

Recognition

Financial instruments are initially measured at cost on trade date, which includes transaction costs, when the related contractual rights or obligations exist. Subsequent to initial recognition these instruments are measured as set out below.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market and are stated at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Held-to-maturity investments

These investments have fixed maturities, and it is the Company's intention to hold these investments to maturity. Any held-to-maturity investments held by the Company are stated at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities

Non-derivative financial liabilities are recognised at amortised cost, comprising original debt less principal payments and amortisation.

Fair value

Fair value is determined based on current bid prices for all quoted investments. Valuation techniques are applied to determine the fair value for all unlisted securities, including recent arm's length transactions, reference to similar instruments and option pricing models.

(h) Intangibles

DVD development costs

DVD development costs are capitalised only where the project will deliver future economic benefits and these benefits can be measured reliably.

The DVD has a finite life and is amortised on a systematic basis matched to the future economic benefits over the useful life.

Website development costs

Website development costs are capitalised only where the project will deliver future economic benefits and these benefits can be measured reliably.

The website is expected to have a four year lifespan before major refresh is necessary, and is amortised on a systematic basis matched to the future economic benefits over the useful life.

(i) Impairment of assets

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying values of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

(j) Employee Benefits

Provision is made for the Company's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to balance date. Employee benefits that are expected to be settled within one year have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled, plus related on-costs. Employee benefits payable later than one year have been measured at present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits.

(k) Income Tax

The Country Education Foundation of Australia Ltd has been granted income tax exempt status under s 50-5 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. As a result of its income tax exempt status no income tax is payable by the company.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2015

1 Statement of Significant Accounting Policies continued

(I) Revenue

Donations are considered as income upon receipt.

Contributions from educational institutions and co funders are recognised in the income statement when it is controlled. Where there are conditions attached to the contributions requiring them to be used for specific purposes, the unexpended amounts are recognised in the statement of financial position as a liability until such conditions are met or services provided.

Dividend income is recognised based on the expected payment date. Franking credits relating to dividends are considered to be additional revenue as the company is entitled to apply for a refund of these franking credits. The income from the franking credits is regarded as income in line with the related dividends expected payment date.

Interest revenue is recognised on a proportional basis taking into account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets.

(m) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised exclusive of the amount of GST as the company is registered for GST. Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown net of GST.

2 Critical accounting estimates and judgments

Accounting for grant income

The application of AASB1004 "Contributions" was reconsidered in regard to grant monies received (primarily for scholarships). The accounting standard generally requires income to be brought to account when control is obtained unless there is a requirement to undertake a reciprocal arrangement and potentially refund the amounts if the arrangements are not carried out.

Until 30 June 2014 income from supporters as detailed below was included in income as received.

The conditions attaching to these grants and those criteria of the accounting standards have been reconsidered in the current financial year and it has been determined that there is sufficient requirements met to disclose unexpended portions of these grants as unearned income and therefore liabilities of the company.

The impact of introducing this policy was an increase in the company's deficit of $224,500, which otherwise would have been $20,672. As was disclosed in the 2014 report the surplus achieved for that year was significantly impacted by the unexpended funds not disclosed as a liability.

The details of the unexpended grants by supporter are:
